

Paul Revere Pottery Plate

Saturday Evening Girls PAUL REVERE POTTERY HEART PLATE

Description:

This is a Saturday Evening Girls Paul Revere Pottery Plate with cutout hearts. It measures just under 9.5" across. On the back is the Paul Revere logo with PR riding his horse and the words: Paul Revere Pottery. There is also an initial J and 10.24 written on back. There are no chips, cracks or damages. Perfect to add to any collection or display.

Winning Bid:

$262.00

Ended: 7/28/07

History: 7 bids

Starting Bid: $9.95

Winner: Fort Wayne, IN

Viewed

000094 X

Paul Revere Pottery Plate

Marcie's Story (eBay ID angelperson)

This is the Paul Revere Pottery Plate by the Saturday Evening Girls I found at a local thrift store and purchased for 50¢. I listed it with this photo at $9.95 and it sold for a whopping $262 on July 28, 2007 to a gentleman in Fort Wayne, Indiana. The bidding was holding at $111 until the last minute when it shot up to the final price.

Needless to say I was breathless and speechless (quite unusual for me) when I saw the Email from Ebay with my wonderful plate selling at this terrific price! There were 7 bids and 94 lookers.

When I found it, I was drawn to it and just knew it was something I should not pass up. I took it home and researched it on Google and found its history. I thought maybe I would get as much as $25 for it. I am so glad I was wrong.

Among the Arts & Crafts potteries of early 20th century, the Saturday Evening Girls (SEG) Paul Revere Pottery holds a special place. Founded in Boston about the year 1907 the pottery gave young women the chance to learn a trade and the skills needed to run a business. They met once a week at a public library and created the pottery we love and collect today.

