Peter Rabbit Book Set

Yvonna's Story (eBay ID: harry326)

My mother gave this book set to my daughter years ago. Recently we were going to have a yard sale to clear out some items that weren't eBay quality.

I always end up with a lot of junk in box lots that I buy at auction when I see something that would be good to put on eBay. Instead of passing the good item up, I bring the rest of the stuff home and look through it. Anything that isn't for eBay goes to a different auction barn to be resold or during the summer I may have a yard sale.

Well I decided to have a yard sale to clear things out. My daughter was wanting to clear some things out in her room. That is always a good thing. She has more stuff than room.

She brought me this book set when we were pricing things. This was such a nice set I told her we would look it up on eBay first. I saw some partial sets selling and only a few full sets which were doing well. I told her we would put it on eBay. She was so excited when they brought more than we had seen them bringing. For a free item, she sold them for $102.50. Not bad for her first eBay sale. Now she wants me to look everything up on eBay to see if she can sell it. Future e-bayer in the works?

This was a first purchase for a new eBayer from Canada. Don't be afraid to sell to newbies or to other countries. I do a lot of sales to other countries and to new buyers. With the changes the post office has made it actually makes shipping to other countries easier since you can use their free Priority boxes when shipping Priority International. Plus, you can create the Priority labels online and set your package outside for free carrier pickup. Saves me a lot of time and trips to the post office!
