

Mexican Folk Art Dish

Vtg Mexican Folk Art Pottery Rectangular Dish Deer HELP

Description:

This vintage dish is really beautiful, features deer, butterflies, leaves and flowers in yellow, all outlined in a dark brown. Blue trim. There is crazing throughout and several problems, small nicks on the trim, some age spots and wear on the corners. One small spot of glaze peeled off, you can see it on the upper right corner of the photo. Two stamps on the back, one says Mexico, the other may say the same thing but I can't read it. Measures 11 3/4" by 9 1/4". If anyone has any information on this piece, I'd love to hear from you! Some of the words I've seen during my research of this dish were Tlaquepaque, Fantasy and Torala but I don't know if any of these apply here. This would be a great display piece or fantastic to serve your tacos, tamales or other Mexican dish at your next party!

Mexican Folk Art Dish

Chrissy's Story (eBay ID lowhornmatthews)

I was on my way to my daughter's friend's birthday bash to help chaperone when I passed this old thrift store and did a U-turn. Glad I did! There were two old Mexican dishes, one square and smaller than the other, one rectangular. I ended up giving the smaller dish away because it was so damaged. I listed the larger one, even though I usually don't buy pieces that are crazed and/or chipped but a little voice told me to try this one.

As soon as it was listed, a buyer contacted me and asked me to let them "buy-it-now" for $80.00 and I knew I had something special.

I followed your advice and kindly told them I would rather they bid on the item, that they would probably get the dish for much less! (Also wasn't sure what I had, only stamp was MEXICO on bottom, so I added HELP to the title and had a ton of good folks write to let me know what I had, "Fantasia from Tlaquepaque!") Glad I listened to you, Lynn! The rest is history! My best sale to date!

My eBay user ID is lowhornmatthews, store name is Our Vintage Treasures. Thanks for all your advise, I love your newsletter! Keep up the great work!
